

Nonparametric priors for analyzing censored data and data from repair Models

Jayaram Sethuraman, Florida State University

We introduce partition based (PB) Dirichlet and general nonparametric priors which are useful in analyzing data arising from general repair models and from censoring. These are illustrated with some examples.