

Finding thin subgroups in lattices

Darren Long, University of California, Santa Barbara

We show how geometric and computational tools can be used to construct interesting subgroups of high rank lattices; we shall focus mostly on surface groups, but we also have results for hyperbolic 3-manifold groups.