

Smoothing maximum functions

Michael Todd, Cornell University

Given n smooth and convex functions on \mathbb{R}^d , their pointwise maximum and the sum of the pointwise k largest functions are both convex, but not smooth. We propose a constructive way to find a good convex approximation to these functions.