

First moments of L-functions

Maksym Radziwil, Rutgers University

I will discuss several problems about first moments of L-functions, which are at the edge of what should be possible but which we currently do not know how to address.