

Playing with Surfaces: Spheres, Monkey Pants, and Zippergons

Kelly Delp, Cornell University

I will describe a process, inspired by clothing design, of smoothing an octahedron into a round sphere. This process can be adapted to build many different types of surfaces out of paper and craft foam. This project was joint with Bill Thurston.