

Online Stochastic Matching: New Results and Open Problems

Vahab Mirrokni, Google Inc.

In this talk I will summarize three new results in online stochastic allocation problems and pose three major open problems in the area. The three new results are about simultaneous adversarial and stochastic optimization, improved algorithm for online submodular welfare maximization in random order, and online stochastic weighted matchings.