

The role of symmetry in sphere packing in high dimensions

Henry Cohn, Microsoft Research

In this talk, I'll outline joint work with Yufei Zhao on upper bounds for packing density in high dimensions, as well as lower bounds due to Vance and Venkatesh. I'll focus on the role of symmetry and (a)periodicity, and I'll highlight open problems in which progress should be possible.