

On 1d equations modeling features of fluid flows.

Vladimir Sverak, University of Minnesota

Generalizations of the exactly solvable 1d Constantin-Lax-Majda model (such as the one due to De Gregorio) and 1d models motivated by boundary behavior of 3d fluids lead to 1d equations/systems with an interesting behavior of solutions. We will discuss some recent results concerning such models.