Random Polynomial Mappings
Norman Levenberg, Indiana University

We survey some results on random polynomial mappings; i.e., equidimensional maps H from N-dimensional complex space to itself where each component function of H is a random polynomial, in various situations.