Random matrices, operators and analytic functions
Benedek Valko, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Point process limits of the spectrum of certain random matrix ensembles can be represented using random differential operators. I will review some of these representations, and present a couple of applications.

Joint with B. Virág (Toronto/Budapest).