5 Points on a sphere
Richard Schwartz, Brown University

I will sketch a proof of the statement that the triangular bi-pyramid is the global energy minimizer with respect to a Riesz power law of exponent s if and only if s<S, where S ~ 15.05 is a certain (probably transcendental) phase transition constant first noticed by Melnyk-Knop-Smith in 1977.