

Packing Liquid Crystal Domains

Randall Kamien, University of Pennsylvania

Focal conic domains are complex, geometric configurations found in cholesteric and smectic liquid crystals: they are not topologically protected but are very low energy states. How do they pack on finite geometries? Come and listen!