

Character tables of finite groups

Gunter Malle, TU Kaiserslautern

Many mathematical problems involving symmetries can be reduced to questions on characters of finite groups, or even of finite simple groups. We report on the state of the art for computing such tables by algorithmic as well as theoretical means and for handling them on the computer. We also sketch some applications to various problems, like the verification of the Atlas tables, the proof of the Ore conjecture, local global conjectures.