

Particle Laden Flow from Theory to Experiment

Andrea Bertozzi, UCLA

This talk showcases recent advances developed at UCLA in modeling particle laden flow in a thin film geometry - starting from the development of a physically accurate model to the mathematical challenges that arise related to these equations.